INTRODUCTION TO PHILOSOPHY

The Broadview Introduction to Philosophy

Edited by Andrew Bailey

NEW!

$74.95 | 1050pp | Spring 2019
(only available in Canada and the US)

9781554813827

The Broadview Introduction to Philosophy is a comprehensive survey of core topics in Western philosophy. It stands out in many ways:

- Written and Edited for Students. Unlike most other introductory anthologies, this book offers substantial assistance to help students understand the context, structure, and terminology of the included readings. Carefully crafted introductions and thorough annotations provide the guidance needed to grapple with this material for the first time, while keeping the primary text central.
- A Mix of the Classic and the Contemporary. Seventy-five historical and contemporary readings are included, ranging from Plato through to the present day. Readings are substantial, and in many cases complete (including the full text of Descartes's Meditations).
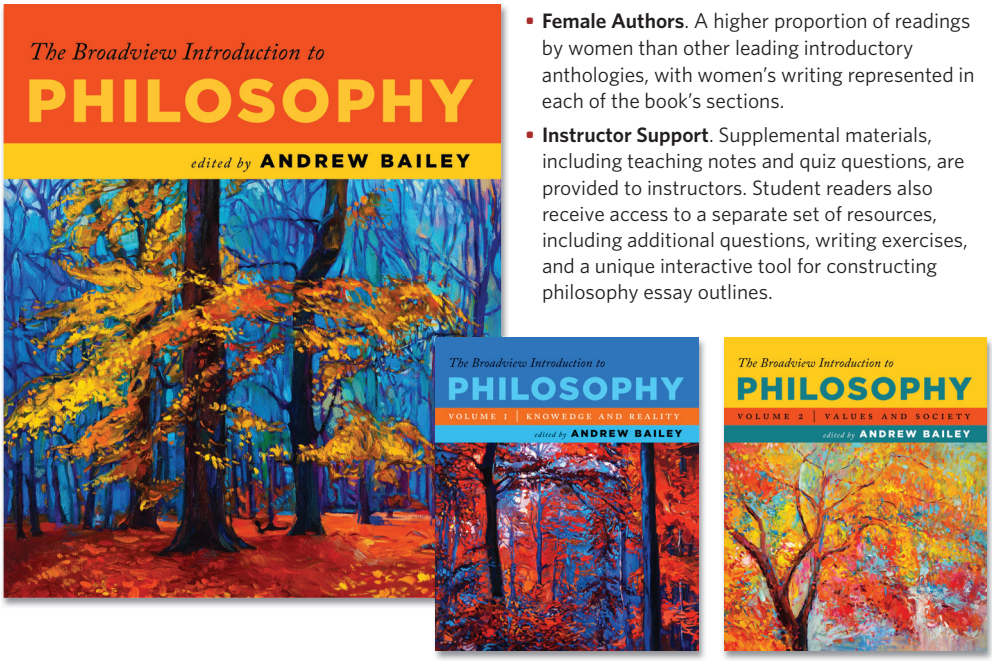
- Comprehensive Content. This anthology includes extensive coverage of foundational topics such as free will, God, and ethical theory, but also readings on contemporary themes such as immigration, gender, race, and epistemic bias.
- Female Authors. A higher proportion of readings by women than other leading introductory anthologies, with women's writing represented in each of the book's sections.
- Instructor Support. Supplemental materials, including teaching notes and quiz questions, are provided to instructors. Student readers also receive access to a separate set of resources, including additional questions, writing exercises, and a unique interactive tool for constructing philosophy essay outlines.



For courses on religion, epistemology, and metaphysics, or courses on ethics and social-political philosophy, a split-volume version of The Broadview Introduction to Philosophy is also available:

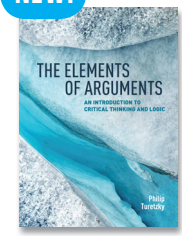
The Elements of Arguments: An Introduction to Critical Thinking and Logic

By Philip Turetzky

NEW!

$39.95 | 340pp | Spring 2019 | 9781554814077



This book covers such central topics as informal fallacies, the difference between validity and truth, basic formal propositional logic, and how to extract arguments from texts. Turetzky aims to prevent common confusions by clearly explaining a number of important distinctions, including propositions vs. propositional attitudes, propositions vs. states of affairs, and logic vs. rhetoric vs. psychology.

Arguing with People

By Michael A. Gilbert

$19.95 | 144pp | 2014 | 9781554811700

"... may be the single most important supplement to [a Critical Reasoning textbook] that an instructor could assign to her students. ...* Arguing with People *is a pleasure to read. It is informative, intellectually stimulating, and will provoke reflection on the many different facets of how and why we argue with others."
— BENJAMIN HAMBY, COASTAL CAROLINA UNIVERSITY, IN COGENCY

Arguing with People emphasizes the importance of understanding real arguments, understanding just who you are arguing with, and knowing how to use that information for successful argumentation.

Good Reasons for Better Arguments: An Introduction to the Skills and Values of Critical Thinking

By Jerome E. Bickenbach and Jacqueline M. Davies

$52.95 | 408pp | 1996 | 9781551110592

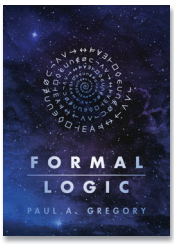
Making Up Your Mind: A Textbook in Critical Thinking

Revised Edition

By Robert Mutti

$52.95 | 192pp | 2014 | 9781554812233

LOGIC



Formal Logic

By Paul A. Gregory

$44.95 | 472pp | 2017

9781554812721

Formal Logic's nine chapters cover truth-functional logic, quantificational logic with identity, introductory set theory, and introductory modal logic. Translations, tables, trees, natural deduction, and simple meta-proofs are taught through over 400 exercises. A companion website (free for anyone who buys the book) offers supplemental practice software and tutorial videos.

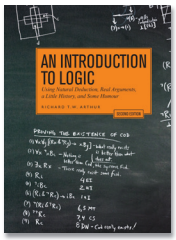
Introducing Symbolic Logic

By Robert M. Martin

$39.95 | 272pp | 2004 | 9781551116358

"The tidiest logic text on the market. Just what you need and no more, presented with a light and student-friendly touch." — ADAM MORTON, UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA

An Introduction to Logic: Using Natural Deduction, Real Arguments, a Little History, and Some Humour



Second Edition

By Richard T.W. Arthur

$44.95 | 456pp | 2016

9781554813322

"Richard Arthur's book offers a fresh new perspective on the pedagogy of introductory logic instruction and its underlying philosophy. Its approach makes informal logic and critical thinking mesh smoothly and intuitively with formal logic, thus clarifying the relevance of formal logic to the assessment of natural argument. My experience of teaching from the first edition was very positive; the book genuinely makes a majority of students build an appetite for logic."
— NICOLAS FILLION, SIMON FRASER UNIVERSITY

Richard Arthur presents a new approach to the study of logic, one that seeks to integrate methods of argument analysis developed in modern "informal logic" with natural deduction techniques. A previous edition of this book was published under the title Natural Deduction; this new edition adds clarifications of the notions of explanation, validity and formal validity, a more detailed discussion of derivation strategies, and another rule of inference, Reiteration.

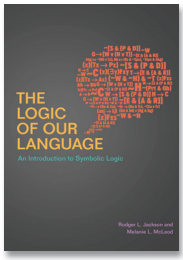
The Logic of Our Language: An Introduction to Symbolic Logic

By Rodger L. Jackson and Melanie L. McLeod

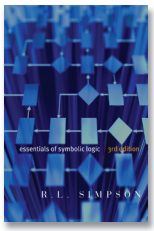


$38.95 | 352pp | 2014

9781554811847

"This is the best introductory logic book I have read in the last ten years, and the best examples since Lewis Carroll." — NATHANIEL NICOL, WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY

Essentials of Symbolic Logic



Third Edition

By R.L. Simpson

$46.95 | 304pp | 2008

9781551118932

"This is an excellent introduction to natural deduction systems—clear and very readable. It introduces rules gently and in a way that students will appreciate. A very good text." — ED MARES, VICTORIA UNIVERSITY

Deductive Logic in Natural Language

By Douglas Cannon

$46.95 | 302pp | 2003 | 9781551114453

This text offers an innovative approach to the teaching of logic, rigorous but entirely non-symbolic. By introducing students to deductive inferences in natural language, the book breaks new ground pedagogically. Cannon focuses on such topics as using a tableaux technique to assess inconsistency; using generative grammar; employing logical analyses of sentences; and dealing with quantifier expressions and syllogisms. An appendix covers truth-functional logic.

Logic With Added Reasoning

By Michael Gabbay

$49.95 | 224pp | 2002 | 9781551114057

This book explains in a clear and careful manner how formal features of, and formal relations between, ordinary declarative sentences are captured by the systems of propositional and predicate logic.

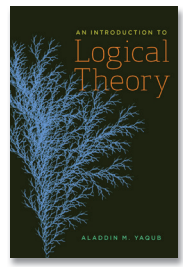
Proof and Consequence: An Introduction to Classical Logic

with "Simon" and "Simon Says" Software

By Ray E. Jennings and Nicole A. Friedrich

$67.95 | 328pp | 2006 | 9781551115474

Proof and Consequence covers all the topics necessary for learning logic at the beginner and intermediate levels: this includes propositional and quantificational logic (using Suppes-style proofs) and extensive metatheory, as well as over 800 exercises. The complete package includes the text, a study guide with extra questions, and access to logic exercise software.



An Introduction to Logical Theory

By Aladdin M. Yaqub

$54.95 | 440pp | 2013

9781551119939

This book introduces the reader to the three traditional systems of classical logic (term, sentence, and predicate logic) and the philosophical issues that surround those systems.

An Introduction to Metalogic

By Aladdin M. Yaqub

$29.95 | 344pp | 2014 | 9781554811717

An Introduction to Metalogic begins with an introduction to predicate logic and ends with detailed outlines of the proofs of the incompleteness, undecidability, and indefinability theorems, covering many related topics in between.

Logical Options: An Introduction to Classical and Alternative Logics

By John L. Bell, David DeVidi, and Graham Solomon

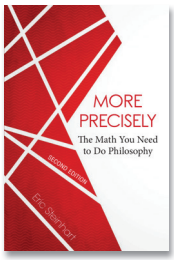
$44.95 | 312pp | 2001 | 9781551112978

Logical Options introduces many-sorted logic, second-order logic, modal logics, intuitionistic logic, three-valued logic, fuzzy logic, and free logic.

PHILOSOPHICAL METHODS

More Precisely: The Math You Need to Do Philosophy

Second Edition



By Eric Steinhart

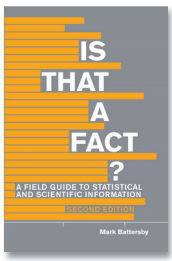
$24.95 | 256pp | 2017

9781554813452

"This is a great resource! Philosophers have always used the tools of mathematics to make their claims clearer and more precise, even more so since the end of the nineteenth century. Until now we haven't had a systematic way to acquire those tools. Steinhart's book remedies the situation, presenting the fundamental ideas thoroughly and comprehensively. Highly recommended for anyone getting into the serious study of philosophy." — ANTHONY DARDIS, HOFSTRA UNIVERSITY

More Precisely is a rigorous and engaging introduction to the math necessary to do philosophy. Eric Steinhart provides lucid explanations of many basic mathematical concepts and demonstrates how mathematics applies to fundamental issues in various branches of philosophy.

Is That a Fact? A Field Guide to Statistical and Scientific Information



Second Edition

By Mark Battersby

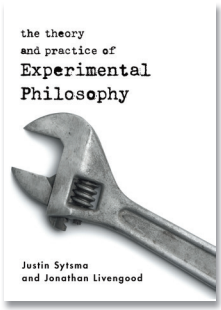
$28.95 | 304pp | 2016

9781554812448

Is That a Fact? aims not only to explain how to identify misleading statistics, but also to give readers the understanding necessary to evaluate and use statistical information in their own decision-making. Graphs, images, and original cartoons are used to visually illustrate concepts. This second edition is revised and updated throughout, and includes a new chapter on the weighing of risks in public policy-making.

The Theory and Practice of Experimental Philosophy

By Justin Sytsma and Jonathan Livengood



$32.95 | 376pp | 2015

9781554810086

"This book is the real thing—a beautifully accessible, wonderfully well-informed introduction to the field from two highly accomplished practitioners." — JOSHUA KNOBE, YALE UNIVERSITY

This book serves two purposes: first, it examines the theory behind "x-phi," including its underlying motivations and the objections that have been leveled against it. Second, the book offers a practical guide for those interested in doing experimental philosophy, detailing how to design, implement, and analyze empirical studies.

An Introduction to Philosophical Methods

By Chris Daly

$34.95 | 258pp | 2010 | 9781551119342

"[This book's] advanced undergraduate and graduate target audience will find it a model of clarity combining accessibility with an acute and penetrating treatment of such issues as the relationship between common sense and philosophy, philosophical analysis, and the role of simplicity and explanation in philosophical theorizing." — ANDRÉ GALLOIS, SYRACUSE UNIVERSITY

Rigorous yet accessible, this book introduces and illustrates the methodological considerations that are involved in current philosophical debates. Where there is controversy, Daly presents the case for each side, but highlights where the key difficulties lie.

The Philosopher's Dictionary

Third Edition

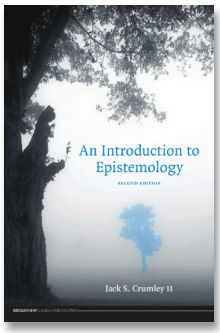
By Robert M. Martin

$16.95 | 336pp | 2002 | 9781551114941

The Philosopher's Dictionary is a comprehensive guide to philosophical terms. Brief entries on hundreds of the most important and best-known philosophers, concepts, and philosophical topics are included.

EPISTEMOLOGY

An Introduction to Epistemology



Second Edition

By Jack S. Crumley II

$32.95 | 320pp | 2009

9781551119076

"... an outstanding resource for students and instructors at both introductory and advanced levels." — PATRICK RYSIEW, UNIVERSITY OF VICTORIA

An Introduction to Epistemology strikes a balance between the many issues that engage contemporary epistemologists and the contributions of major historical figures such as Descartes, Hume, and Kant. Through engaging prose, Jack Crumley explains the central issues and perspectives in a way that is suitable to student readers yet accurate to the primary literature.

Knowledge and Inquiry: Readings in Epistemology

Edited by K. Brad Wray

$46.95 | 480pp | 2002 | 9781551114132

"This anthology captures the key developments in contemporary epistemology—from theories of justification and Gettier problems, to naturalized epistemology and feminist epistemology. Sections are well-organized, with well-chosen readings set in relation to each other to encourage epistemological dialogue. An excellent text!" — HEIDI GRASSWICK, MIDDLEBURY COLLEGE

Knowledge and Inquiry focuses on three areas in the theory of knowledge: epistemic justification; analyses of knowledge and skepticism; and recent developments in epistemology. Each of the three sections includes a brief introduction to the readings, a series of study questions, and a list of suggested readings.

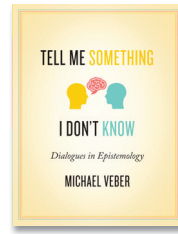
Tell Me Something I Don't Know: Dialogues in Epistemology



By Michael Veber

$24.95 | 200pp | 2018

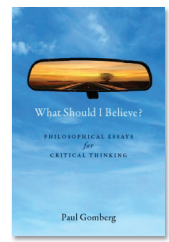
9781554813568

"A terrific book, one that manages to be both illuminating and entertaining at the same time. It's an insightful, reliable, and readable guide to central issues in epistemology. I highly recommend it to anyone interested in the theory of knowledge, from undergraduate students to professional philosophers. I can't recall the last time a philosophy book made me laugh out loud as this one did. Reading it made me wish that Plato had included more jokes in his dialogues." — THOMAS KELLY, PRINCETON UNIVERSITY

Tell Me Something I Don't Know is a collection of original dialogues in epistemology, suitable for student readers but also of interest to experts. Familiar problems, theories, and arguments are explored: second-order knowledge, epistemic closure, the preface paradox, skepticism, pragmatic encroachment, the Gettier problem, and more. New ideas on each of these issues are also offered, defended, and critiqued, often in humorous and entertaining ways.



What Should I Believe? Philosophical Essays for Critical Thinking

Edited by Paul Gomberg

$32.95 | 232pp | 2011

9781554810130

"What Should I Believe? is an excellent little volume that takes its title question seriously and tries to answer with both prudential and normative meanings. Gomberg (Chicago State Univ.) has assembled a worthy set of essays to answer this question, ranging from the classic essays of Peirce, Clifford, and James to his own sincere efforts to guide students in their understanding of belief." — S.C. SCHWARZE, CABRINI COLLEGE, IN *CHOICE REVIEWS

The collection introduces students to issues in the philosophy of science, epistemology, and philosophy of religion. Selections include works by Charles S. Peirce, Stephen Jay Gould, Elizabeth Anscombe, and Richard Dawkins.

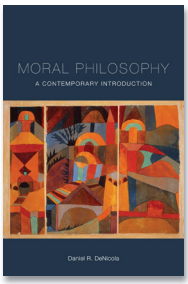
Moral Philosophy: A Contemporary Introduction

By Daniel R. DeNicola

NEW!

$34.95 | 330pp | 2018

9781554813544



"Using DeNicola's* Moral Philosophy: A Contemporary Introduction *has transformed my undergraduate ethical theory course: for the first time, I have a textbook that presents material at exactly the right level of complexity, and keeps the students engaged and enthusiastic about what they are learning. The cases that open each chapter capture students' attention, and the questions at the end of each chapter lead to sophisticated and lively discussions." — LISA TESSMAN, BINGHAMTON UNIVERSITY

Moral Philosophy: A Contemporary Introduction is a compact yet comprehensive book offering an explication and critique of the major theories that have shaped philosophical ethics. Engaging with both historical and contemporary figures, this book explores the scope, limits, and requirements of morality.

Edited by Mark C. Vopat and Alan Tomhave

$44.95 | 325pp | 2018
(only available in Canada and the US)

9781554814305

Business Ethics: The Big Picture asks students to focus on the assumptions underlying the activity of business. Why does society provide special protections for businesses? What is the purpose of a corporation? What do businesses owe society? And are there some things that shouldn't be distributed by the free market? These questions are addressed through classic readings from such central figures as Adam Smith and Karl Marx, in addition to contemporary selections from Milton Friedman, R. Edward Freeman, Debra Satz, and others. A number of compelling real-world case studies are also included.

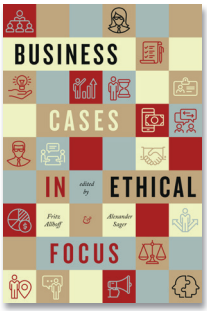
Business Cases in Ethical Focus

Edited by Fritz Allhoff and Alexander Sager

NEW!

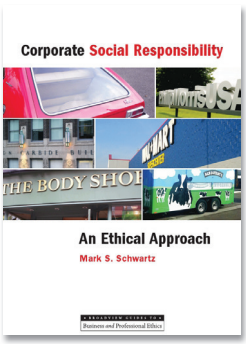
$34.95 | 250pp | Fall 2019

9781554813742



Business Cases in Ethical Focus is a new collection of in-depth case studies from around the world covering all major areas of business ethics. Thirty-five cases are included, with topics ranging from the ethics of entrepreneurship and finance to the challenges that diversity raises for business and the moral issues implicated in selling cannabis. The cases are provocative yet sufficiently complex to convey the difficulty of moral dilemmas and the potential for reasonable disagreement. This book can be used on its own or as a supplemental text for group discussions and assignments.

Corporate Social Responsibility: An Ethical Approach



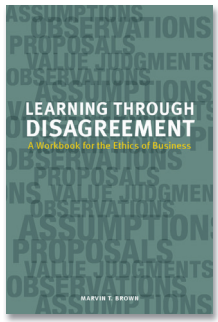
By Mark S. Schwartz

$27.95 | 176pp | 2011

9781551112947

"Dr. Schwartz's brilliantly written book is a must-have for anyone with an interest in corporate social responsibility."
— PROFESSOR ADAM LINDGREEN, CARDIFF BUSINESS SCHOOL, UK

The term corporate social responsibility (CSR) is often used in the boardroom, classroom, and political platform, but what does it really mean? Do corporations have ethical or philanthropic duties beyond their obligations to comply with the law? How does CSR relate to business ethics, stakeholder management, sustainability, and corporate citizenship? Mark Schwartz's book is an invaluable resource for students, instructors, and business leaders looking to master the basics of CSR.



Learning through Disagreement: A Workbook for the Ethics of Business

By Marvin T. Brown

$14.95 | 88pp | 2014

9781554812172

Learning through Disagreement offers practical instruction in how to locate underlying assumptions and values so as to identify points of overlap that can serve as building blocks for agreement. Three key ethical approaches are concisely presented, not as abstract theories but as tools for good decision-making. Realistic examples of common workplace disagreements are discussed, and detachable perforated worksheets for individual or group use are interspersed throughout.

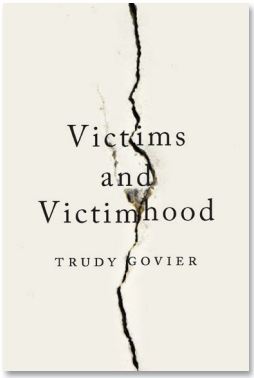
Victims and Victimhood

By Trudy Govier



$27.95 | 248pp | 2015

9781554810994

"This remarkably balanced and clear-headed book pursues philosophical questions about victims that philosophers have not much engaged. Trudy Govier asks us to think carefully about what makes someone a victim, whether a victim is necessarily innocent or credible, why victims need to be heard, and what victims really need and deserve. Some of these questions are uncomfortable but all are essential. Govier has produced a unique examination, studded with timely examples, of issues surrounding victimhood that bear on crime, violence, war, trauma, and justice." — MARGARET URBAN WALKER, MARQUETTE UNIVERSITY

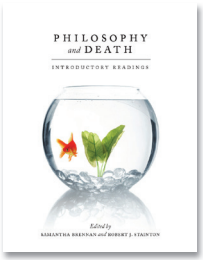
LIFE, DEATH, & HUMAN NATURE



Philosophy and Death: Introductory Readings

Edited by Samantha Brennan and Robert J. Stainton

$52.95 | 416pp | 2009

9781551119021

An outstanding selection of core readings from the philosophical literature on death. The views of ancient writers such as Plato, Epicurus, and Lucretius are set alongside the work of contemporary figures such as Thomas Nagel, John Perry, and Judith Jarvis Thomson. Brennan and Stainton divide the anthology into three parts. Part one considers questions about the nature of death and our knowledge of it, part two asks how we should view death, and part three examines ethical questions related to killing, particularly abortion, euthanasia, and suicide.

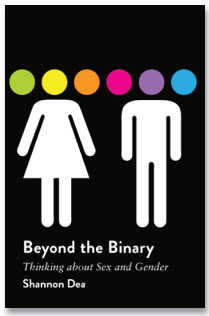
SEX & GENDER



Beyond the Binary: Thinking about Sex and Gender

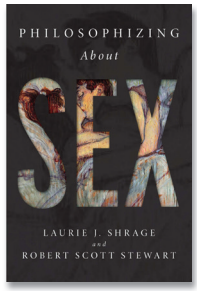
By Shannon Dea

$24.95 | 224pp | 2016

9781554812837

How many sexes are there? What is the relationship between sex and gender? Is gender a product of nature, or nurture, or both? In Beyond the Binary, Shannon Dea addresses these questions while introducing readers to evidence and theoretical perspectives from a range of cultures and disciplines, and from sources spanning three millennia.

Philosophizing About Sex



By Laurie J. Shrage and Robert Scott Stewart

$36.95 | 296pp | 2015

9781554810093

"... the best available introduction to the philosophy of sex."
— DAVID ARCHARD, THE PHILOSOPHICAL QUARTERLY

Philosophizing About Sex provides a critical guide to topical debates about human sexuality. Each chapter takes a general issue (e.g., freedom, privacy, education, objectification, violence, responsibility, etc.) and shows how it can be illuminated by careful philosophical investigation.

PHILOSOPHY OF MIND

A Historical Introduction to the Philosophy of Mind: Readings with Commentary

Second Edition

Edited by Peter Morton

$69.95 | 704pp | 2010 | 9781551118529

This book has two aims: to present the philosophy of mind from a historical perspective so that theories in the field are seen to emerge in the process of solving problems with earlier theories; and to give students access to the original source material together with commentaries that explain the technical terms and jargon, and outline the texts' argumentative structure. Readings span the history of philosophy, from ancient Greek thought to the present day.

PHILOSOPHY OF ART & AESTHETICS

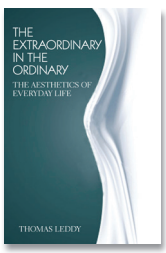
Art and Interpretation: An Anthology of Readings in Aesthetics and the Philosophy of Art

Edited by Eric Dayton

$69.95 | 608pp | 1999 | 9781551111902

Art and Interpretation is a comprehensive anthology of readings on aesthetics. It includes selections from a wide variety of works in aesthetic theory, both classical and modern. The approach is often cross-disciplinary. Within the discipline of philosophy it seeks to balance readings from the analytic tradition with continental European, hermeneutical postmodern (including deconstructionist), and feminist readings.

The Extraordinary in the Ordinary: The Aesthetics of Everyday Life



By Thomas Leddy

$32.95 | 288pp | 2012

9781551114781

This book explores the aesthetics of the objects and environments we encounter in daily life. Thomas Leddy stresses the close relationship between everyday aesthetics and the aesthetics of art, but places special emphasis on neglected aesthetic terms such as "neat," "messy," "pretty," "lovely," "cute," and "pleasant." The author advances a general theory of aesthetic experience that can account for our appreciation of art, nature, and the everyday.
